Sitting on a chair.

When I sat on the first chair,
I am the captain,
I steer the boat out to sea.
Through the fog, through the waves,
Not afraid of danger, I fight
pirates!

When I sit on the second chair,
I'm a pilot,
I fly to the moon,
The moon smiles at me,
And welcomes me step by step!

When I want to be a tiger,
I sit on the third chair,
I yell "wuaaa, wuaa" to my mother,
My sister speaks to me,
I simply ignore her.

When mom comes over,
Calls me to the table to eat,
I sit the fourth chair,
I become a little boy again.

Kites flying happily!

When it is windy, children of all races bring their own kites to the field to fly. One child would run forward pulling a long string, while the other stands and holds the kite gently. The first one shouts, "let go", and the one lets go. After several tugs and pulls, the kite flies into the air and 'play games' with other kites.

In the sky, colourful kites fly around. The moon-shaped, dragon-shaped, butterfly-shaped kites, etc., fly freely, it's so interesting.

Children of all races laugh while running and converse happily. They admire the kites of different races; how beautiful they are!
